A world of hell is falling down around you You find yourself asking "why" Troubled times are on your head And you feel like you wanna cry

So, stand up straight Don't hesitate You've got the power to choose No matter what they say, you're gonna do it your way When you got nothin, there's nothin to lose So what do you do?

Rise on up and make your stand (You got hell to pay) You can let it go, and take that blow again (You got hell to pay) You can't turn back – No (You got hell to pay) So, make that change, and do what's best for you

Hell To Pay

People in town, always messing you around You try so hard to forget You walk by, you say "Hi" But, you always get the same old shit It's a woman or a man, does he squat or stand Your hair's just too damn long Well, I'm a peaceful man But, I'll make my stand So, you'd better not do me wrong

CHORUS

Now you had your fun, where you gonna run Well, I got something to say No matter what you got, ready or not You're gonna lie in the bed that you made Sitting, drinking, all alone, whisky on your brain Maryjane, cocaine, you don't feel no pain

Stand up straight, don't hesitate You got the power to choose You'd better drive on out of the fast lane Before it gets the best of you

CHORUS

So, you want to play Well, then you've gotta pay

Time is running out baby You had your fun Now, just where you gonna run
